

Dr. Jennifer Spence

Dr. Spence has extensive experience regarding Arctic governance, as Executive Secretary of the Sustainable Development Working Group of the Arctic Council, as an Adjunct Research Professor at Carleton University and in her previous work with the Centre for International Governance Innovation. In her free time, Jennifer loves training for triathlons or curling up with a good book